

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN PUSHING FORWARD.

Hon. Jeff McCarn Addresses
Enthusiastic Audience at Mass Meeting.

The campaign launched by the Ministerial Association of Dickson for the purpose of creating a sentiment among our citizens in co-operating with the Municipal authorities for a cleaner and better Dickson along moral and spiritual lines, as well as to further improve her sanitary conditions, is pushing forward with increased interest.

A large and representative audience of citizens assembled in the auditorium of Oakmont School Sunday afternoon, as a result of a resolution adopted at the call-meeting issued by the Ministers, which was held Sunday, August 6th, naming a committee to make further plans in the proposed movement and calling a meeting of the citizens of Dickson for the date above mentioned. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman of this committee, H. T. Cowan, and after the audience was favored with a vocal selection by a male quartette, he explained the plan of the campaign, laying special stress on the fact that it was not antagonistic to any of the Municipal authorities, personally speaking, as had been intimated by some. Rev. John Durrett of the M. E. Church, South, also made a few welcome remarks regarding this subject, after which the Chairman presented Pitt Hendee, who, in a few appropriate remarks, introduced the principal speaker of the hour, Hon. Jeff McCarn, of Nashville. Mr. McCarn's address was direct to the point in every particular. He dealt the bootlegger a death blow, stating that he was of more danger to "our sons" than the highwayman or gambler, and that he, in a short time, could rob a boy of the things that he had spent years of earnest work to obtain in our schools and universities. He displayed the usual eloquence of oratory in his remarks, being enthusiastically applauded at various intervals. At the conclusion of his address, the following resolution was read and unanimously adopted:

"We, as citizens of Dickson, appreciate the efforts now being made to create a healthy public sentiment for a cleaner and better town, do resolve:

"1st—That it is the sense of this mass-meeting now assembled to co-operate in every way with the off-

cers, pastors and citizens until this is done and to continue these meetings as long as it is deemed best, and that the men of Dickson be called together in a like meeting next Sunday at 3 p. m., at which time every man will be given an opportunity to fully express himself on the subject;

"2nd—In order that our good women may have a share in the municipal house cleaning, we suggest that a meeting be called for next Sunday at 3 p. m. for all women of our town who want a better and cleaner city in which to rear their children and to effect an organization for their work.

"Signed:
H. T. COWAN, Chairman
R. L. MONTGOMERY,
B. F. McCREARY."

It was agreed that the men would hold their meeting at the M. E. Church, and the women's meeting at the Baptist Church.

TEST OIL WELL NOW SEEMS ASSURED

W. T. Andrews, the Promoter, Receives Letter From Former Citizens.

W. T. Andrews, who is promoting a co-operative plan in putting down a test oil well in the suburbs of Dickson by selling stock at $30.00 a share, informs us that he has sold 125 of the proposed 200 shares, and that he is confident he will have the 75 remaining shares sold in a short time. He is receiving great encouragement in the project.

Below, we publish a letter received by him a few days ago from Mrs. George McKennie, who was formerly Miss Willie Dikeman, and her mother's place she speaks of is the Dikeman place in the western part of Dickson:

"McKennie, Tenn., 8-7-16.
W. T. Andrews,
Dickson, Tenn.

Dear Sir:—
Your letter came duly to hand. You will find application for one share of stock. I will try to interest some other parties in the matter. My best thought is with you in your investigation. I hope you will get a gusher. My mother was unable to get water at our old home place on account of gas. One well blew a large iron drill out, and the gas roared so it could be heard on the railroad. The gas would burn. I saw that and have never ceased to believe that oil and gas would be found in and around Dickson. I do not know exactly where your land is located. Wishing you success, I am respectfully,
Willie McKennie."

Error in Fair Catalogue.

The management of the Dickson County Fair wish to take this means of calling attention to an error in the Live Stock Department of their catalogue which is now being distributed. Classes Nos. 4, 5 and 6, under this department should read "Thoroughbred or Registered" instead of just "Registered."

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Monday, the president, Mrs. Ella Davis, being in the chair. After devotional exercises, the study of Missions in Europe was discussed, each one present taking part. Mrs. Jackson gave a helpful and appreciative reading, entitled, "The Master's Question." Mrs. Jackson, of Springfield, mother of Rev. N. B. Jackson, also made an encouraging talk to the Union. Two visitors were present.—Reporter.
